

Democracy and governance: One presidential election was held in Togo and parliamentary elections in Guinea and Mali. In Togo, the elections were held on February 22, 2020 despite several calls by both opposition parties and civil society, including some Bishops to suspend the electoral process.